131 DIE IN GERMAN MINE BLAST

Cave Diggers Near Last Barrier

ATTACK IS STARTED ON ROCK CRUST TO CAVERN

See 60 Hours Strenuous Work Ahead to Reach Entombed Victim

EXPECT GOAL TO BE REACHED SHORTLY

Man Who Gives His Name As Floyd Collins Found In Kansas

AT CAVE, KY. Feb. 12.—As a winter wind flecked snow across the opening of their shaft, diggers attacked today the last few feet of rock that separates them from Floyd Collins.

The mole-men have burrowed to the limestone layer which forms the roof of Collins' rock box. It may be minutes, it may be hours before their picks pierce that bottom crust and disclose to them their goal.

Collins May Be Dead

All preparations have been made to quickly clear out this debris, place Collins on a lift and deliver him to Dr. W. H. Hazlett, Chicago, who will—

But there they stop. Dr. Hazlett may give stimulants. Or he may say the man is dead.

Official estimates today stated it would take a maximum of sixty hours to reach the level at which Collins lies.

H. T. Carmichael, general supervisor of operations, issued the following official communique.

"At 9 a. m. today the shaft had reached a depth of about forty feet.

"Our normal average now is ten feet in 24 hours, which should put us at the 70 foot level 60 hours from now.

"It then will be necessary to bore a tunnel to Collins, whose position laterally from our shaft we believe we have fixed."

Then Carmichael added unofficially:

"All this is barring surprises. There are many fissures in rocks. We might at any moment strike one which would lead us to Collins."

Explains "Hoax" Story

First witness called today before the court martial of inquiry investigating scandals of the rescue work was a press representative who sought to explain how a story reprinted by Governor William J. Fields had been sent.

This message stated the whole affair was a hoax and Collins was not in the cave.

Robert Hyde, last man to talk to Collins, was the next witness.

"When I found it was impossible to crawl further down the crevice, I called to Collins," Hyde said.

"The only answer I got was a moan and an occasional 'Oh, oh!'" Hyde agreed with Johnnie Gerald's above had hastened closing of the tunnel, but added he considered the shaft the only practicable way of freeing Collins.

Another miner corroborated Hyde's testimony and a short recess was taken.

"FOUDY COLLINS' IS FOUND IN KANSAS"

HADDAM, Kans., Feb. 12.—Kansas has a Floyd Collins.

He was held here today at the home of Mayor E. W. Sherburn while authorities are trying to get in touch with Cave City authorities. Kansas' Floyd Collins does not check up with the Floyd Collins imprisoned in Sand Cave, however.

"I'm 25 years old," he said over long distance telephone this morning.

"I was recently discharged from the Canadian army and was making my way back there. I have not been there since 1921. Yesterday I was walking toward this town and a farmer picked me up and gave me a ride to town. He asked me where I was from."

"Cave City, Ky.," I answered.

"Why, that's where the fellow is in the cave and can't get out," he said.

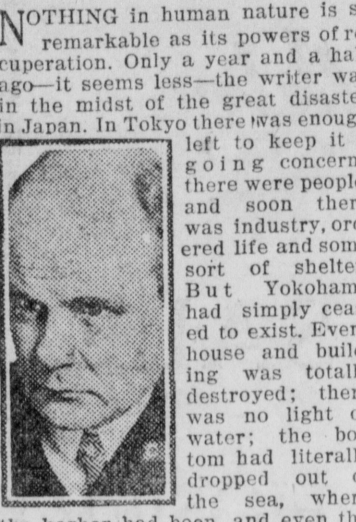

"What's his name?" I asked.

"He told me this fellow's name was Floyd Collins and asked me if I knew him."

"Of course, I know him," I said.

"I'm Floyd Collins myself."

Mayor Sherburn said he was convinced the man's name was Floyd Collins. The mayor expected to hear soon from Lieutenant Governor H. H. Denhardt of Kentucky, whom he notified late yesterday.

Nothing in human nature is so remarkable as its powers of recuperation. Only a year and a half ago it seems less—the writer was in the midst of the great disaster in Japan. In Tokyo there was enough left to keep it a going concern; there were people, and soon there was industry, order and life and some sort of shelter. But Yokohama had simply ceased to exist. Every house and building was totally destroyed; there was no light or water; the bottom had literally dropped out of the sea, where the harbor had been, and even the people moved out. Now they have a new census, showing more people as before, and more school children, street car passengers and bank deposits. Everything was destroyed except the indomitable spirit of the people—but that was enough. Now a new Yokohama justifies that spirit.

Those who witnessed the San Francisco disaster will recall a like situation. San Francisco to be sure, was not all destroyed. There were houses in its unburned district and in the cities across the bay, to shelter its people. But everything that had made it a city was gone—business and industry and the buildings, plants and goods with which they were conducted. Only the firm purpose of its people remained. Out of that determination San Francisco rose better than ever, and the great fire is now only a romantic memory.

RECENT visitors to Europe will have observed the same thing on a vaster scale. If the war wounds are not healed, the dead are not buried, the dead are in their graves, and their vacancies in the streets are not visible. Life goes on, superficially, much the same. Even in devastated France and defeated Germany, one must look beneath the surface to see that any thing has happened. Human life gets "back to normalcy" with a resilience that is unbelievable.

TO DRAMATIZE death, you must make it individual, and leave something for conscious human effort. Where, as in Nome and Sand Cave, death can be fought by work, the workers are eager for the world's applause. But, unnoticed by a thousand beholders, a thousand watchers wait, denied even the solace of work. Sometimes life wins, sometimes death; but at last always death.

A whole generation goes only its latest ones even mourned by their successors. Death, just abstractly, is as common as the air. But, as in the case of the students before us—"where are those who were in the world before us?"—the students lightly sing, and draw no moral save "gaudeamus, igitur, juvenes dum sumus"—"let us have a good time, then, while we are young." It was wisely ordained that we should fight against dying death. It is fighting that makes drama—or news.

THE ANNUAL announcement is just made of the attendance at American universities. As usual, Columbia and California lead—Columbia in total enrollment and California in full-time regular students. The figures for these two super-universities are: Columbia, total 30,021, regular 11,621; California, total 24,112, regular 15,580. The number of full-time students in the twenty-five largest universities is 102,692. The smaller institutions would doubtless raise the total college population to over a quarter of a million.

This is more individuals "exposed to" higher learning that were ever in contact with it in the world before. And yet, in the working life of the present students it would mean the accumulation of something over a million college graduates, or twice that number who had attended college, in a population more than a hundred times as large. The present student enrollment represents only one family in a hundred.

That is better than the one in a thousand, or ten thousand, of previous generations. But it still means that in the most democratic, enlightened, and free world, in its most enlightened age, only one in a hundred of its people will have learned even the alphabet of the language in which modern knowledge is written. A few hundreds, as always, will create or disseminate knowledge, a few thousands will understand it. The millions will use it—and fancy themselves sharers of its "enlightenment."

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—Dr. Newton Samuel Rice, of Pomona, was placed on probation for a period of five years by the state board of medical examiners here today. Dr. Rice, accused of malpractice, was summoned before the board for hearing to show cause why his license should not be revoked.

Let "Buttress" Be Your Barrier Against the Greedy Rush of FIRE!

Commenting on the fact that a serious fire at a popular bathing resort was checked by a thin covering of gypsum wall board on one of the buildings, a newspaper editorial says: "It is to the public advantage that every form of fire-proof and fire-resisting construction shall be used. The cheaper kinds are the most important as they are more likely to be used voluntarily outside the fire limits."

Because BUTTRESS WALLBOARD is made of pure gypsum rock plaster, it is widely recognized as an indispensable part of modern fire-proof construction—good enough for a mansion—economical enough for a cottage.

BUILDING LOAN BILL CHANGES ARE OUTLINED

The Home Mutual Building and Loan association of Santa Ana and the Santa Ana Building and Loan association have received from A. E. Falch, state building and loan commissioner, copies of the twelve bills relating to building and loan associations which have been introduced in the legislature. Principal changes proposed are summarized as follows:

"To confer power in the building and loan commissioner to grant or refuse to grant charters to proposed associations; confer power on the commissioner to name the employees of his office and fix their salaries; increase a building and loan agent's license fee from $1 to $5; fix the base rate of $10 per annum for each association's license fee and prorate the balance among all associations; permits cemetery corporations to invest in investment certificates of California building and loan associations; provides that there be no limiting of guaranteed stock surplus to any specified amount; permits heirs to collect money invested with building and loan associations, where the investor is deceased, and the estate is valued at less than $1000; provides that all bonds of officers and employees of building and loan associations be filed in the office of the commissioner; provides for the elimination of the withdrawal fee, now charged by some of the associations; provides that minors, over the age of 14 years, may hold shares in their own names; corrects the law so that reserve for investment certificates shall be 5 per cent in excess of two million dollars; entrance fee of associations is reduced from $1 to 50 cents.

"It is the desire of Commissioner Falch that the various associations should have the opportunity to carefully examine and study the various bills, prior to the second session of the legislature, in order that he may get a cross-section of their ideas, to be used in connection with his own ideas, when the time comes for him to appear before the building and loan committees of the state senate and assembly.

"Commissioner Falch will attend the sessions of the Pacific Coast conference of building and loan associations, which will be held in Los Angeles, February 12."

JR. COLLEGE CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

In the election of officers yesterday, members of the Santa Ana junior college Beta Gamma organization named William Adamson to fill the presidency for the coming semester.

Other officers elected were: Miss Addie Settle, vice-president; Miss Lois Hallman, secretary; treasurer, and Raymond Vandruft, chairman of the membership committee.

The organization, created less than a year ago, is a service club restricting its membership to the junior college second year students who are especially active in student body affairs. Miss Jennie B. Lasby and E. M. Nealley are faculty advisors.

Santa Ana Girl Gets B. A. Degree

Miss Mabel H. Ozment of Santa Ana, a senior at the University of Southern California, was granted a degree of Bachelor of Arts Wednesday morning when mid-winter commencement exercises were held in Bovard auditorium.

Because of the large number of students completing work this month it was decided to hold mid-year commencement exercises, and if the large number of February graduates continue, the mid-winter commencement will become an annual affair.

OUR—NEIGHBORS

MONROVIA—Annexation of Oak Park tract, a portion of Duarte, to Monrovia, carried at a special election Tuesday by a vote of 115 to 50. The area to be added to the city is two square miles with a population of 500 persons. The election was hotly contested, opponents basing their stand on high taxation and those in favor arguing that annexation will give the tract the benefits of fire protection, water, sewers and the anti-sanitarium law of Monrovia. Monrovia has a zoning ordinance that keeps sanitariums from inside the city limits.

SAN BERNARDINO—San Bernardino's second new hotel, The California, will be erected at Fifth and E street within the present year. The lease, which will run 99 years, has been signed by the Catholic parish and R. E. Durbin, of Fullerton, who is to erect the hotel. W. H. Swan, of the Security Investment company, is a half-owner in the lease. The lease will pay the parish $872,000 and in addition the ground must be improved to the extent of $100,000 the first year and at least $200,000 within the next five years. Under the present plans, improvements to be begun this year will total $500,000. Mr. Durbin, who is the proprietor of the California hotel at Fullerton, ranks as one of the state's leading hotel men.

WILMINGTON—Negotiations to establish a new industry in Wilmington, with a plant costing more than $1,000,000, a payroll of some 2000 persons, involving the expenditure of approximately $1,000,000 in dredging operations and a large increase in freight shipments to this port from Hawaii, are now under way by the harbor commission, the Union Pacific railway and an undisclosed group of Hawaiian sugar planters.

RIVERSIDE—Development of plans for the construction of a large storage reservoir on the East side as a stop in the enlargement of the city water system was discussed at a meeting of the board of public utilities held here. With the possibility of making available $100,000 to continue the water system improvement program, Mayor Evans urged that serious consideration be given to construction of a reservoir or installation of a new transmission main from a San Bernardino artesian basin. It was practically decided that the first step should be the reservoir, possibly of 20,000,000 gallons capacity, to provide reserve water and higher pressure to the system. The new main, it was pointed out, could follow later.

SAN BERNARDINO—Grading of the Arrowhead Trail across the desert from Kroneke lake to the Nevada state line, for which the board of supervisors appropriated $12,000, has begun. A road crew of 30 men using trucks, scrapers and tractors, is grading the route from Kroneke lake north, a distance of 40 miles. Construction headquarters will be established at Kroneke lake, where a camp will be maintained for weeks. The route will be graded along a course traveled by pioneers in ox teams in the early days of California, entering the state south of Las Vegas and traversing the country penetrated by the Union Pacific railway. From Yermo to the Kroneke lake country, the highway parallels the railway.

TOOTHACHE IS ONLY A DANGER SIGNAL

Every patient gets the best of attention. Where specialists in different lines of dentistry are associated as with us, each case receives the benefit of consultation from all, if necessary. You may thus rely upon the proper treatment here.

Those little shooting pains in your tooth tell you there is trouble. You go to a dentist, if it hurts enough. But you should have your teeth looked after before the pain is necessary. This is the proper and most economical way to have good teeth, and good teeth mean good health.

By associating, we reduce the overhead and incidental expenses necessary to Dental offices. That saving is deflected to you. Your charges are lower without the necessity of reducing the quality of the service.

PRESIDENT'S HOBBY HORSE CAUSES STIR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Old "Ironside," the sturdy hobby horse on which President Coolidge goes for a dressing room gallop three times daily, has taken the national capital by storm. (Incidentally no small portion of the storm is centered in and about the White House as a result of the news leaking out.)

Everyone is asking how the indoor hobble happened to become the vogue with the executive.

Here is how:

While the President enjoyed horseback riding, he suffered somewhat from a nasal affection which is aggravated by the effluvia arising from a horse's hide and any dust that might be kicked up by a canter along the roads.

Added to this was the feeling of secret service men that outdoor riding was attended by unnecessary dangers.

So the President cast around for something similar because his doctors recommended this type of exercise. Mentioning his dilemma one day to a luncheon guest, said to be Dwight Morrow, New York financier and classmate of the President at Amherst, the guest replied that he had a couple of electro-mechanical pacers which he recommended and if the President would permit, he would send him one.

The horse arrived at the back door of the White House one day and was uncrated by the staff. The President, it is said, enjoyed secrecy. Rumors of the existence of his horse never could be confirmed until "someone" innocently let it out yesterday.

Newspaper headlines, editorials and cartoons, of course, already have made merry over the discovery. One drawing offers the suggestion of an electric fan blowing on the President as he rides, to lend realism. A headline suggests he has all the fun and none of the falls of the Prince of Wales.

At a dinner for newspaper employees here last night, the President made no reference to the disclosure of his secret.

merce today made an appeal for twenty automobiles for use Saturday afternoon in driving delegates to the Y. M. C. A. convention to the C. C. Chapman ranch, Fullerton, and return. The party will leave here about 2 p. m. and return around 5 p. m. Persons who will volunteer use of their cars for the occasion are requested to telephone the Chamber of Commerce at once. The telephone number is 222.

In the advertisement of Dickey-Baggerly appearing in Wednesday's issue of The Register, the special price of the 6-piece bedroom suite was omitted. The price of this item is $59.50.

Santa Ana Lodge No. 241, F. & A. M., will confer the First Degree of Masonry Friday, Feb. 13th, at 7 p. m. Visitors welcome.

Knexville, Tenn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound while going through the Change of Life. I was very nervous, could not sleep and had melancholy spells. In fact, I was nearly insane at times and my memory was almost a blank. I was so weak I could not do my housework half of the time and suffered dreadfully with my back. My doctor said I would have to worry it out and I went through this for three years before I began taking the Vegetable Compound which I saw advertised. I think it was eight bottles that I took. It has been two years since I took any and I haven't had a doctor since for that trouble. I do all my washing and ironing and I have gained from 116 to 138 pounds. I advise all women who suffer physically and mentally as I did to give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. I hope it will do as much for them as it did for me."—Mrs. T. A. SAUNDERS, 711 E. My doctor said I would have to worry it out and I went through this for three years before I began taking the Vegetable Compound which I saw advertised. I think it was eight bottles that I took. It has been two years since I took any and I haven't had a doctor since for that trouble. I do all my washing and ironing and I have gained from 116 to 138 pounds. I advise all women who suffer physically and mentally as I did to give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. I hope it will do as much for them as it did for me."—Mrs. T. A. SAUNDERS, 711 E. EARLY CLOSING POLICY AT MEXICAN BORDER WILL BE CONTINUED, SWING BELIEVES

According to word received here from Washington, Congressman Swing is strongly of the opinion that the present 9 o'clock closing order for the Mexican border has justified itself and will be continued, despite the protests of certain interests.

One year ago this month the government put into effect the present hours for closing the line. This was the culmination of a vigorous and victorious fight waged by the women's clubs, churches, and law enforcement officers, with the aid of many business men, to protect American communities from the baneful and injurious consequences of the vice conditions which flourished along the Mexican side of the line.

Recently the Calexico Chamber of Commerce started the whole discussion anew by petitioning the government to restore the old hours and to reopen the line until midnight on the ground that the present restrictions were hurting business. The Mexican resort owners also have been exceedingly active, exerting every possible influence to get the Washington authorities to withdraw the present order since it has been conservatively estimated that their profits at Tia Juana and Mexicali have been reduced since the order went into effect fully $250,000 per month. Petitions have been circulated and signed in both these border towns and appeals have been made to Washington through men who were supposed to have "influence."

Opposed to this effort has been arraigned the same forces of decency that made the fight and won the closing order a year ago. Petitions, resolutions, letters and telegrams from public officials, women's clubs, churches, business and professional men have poured in on the treasury department protesting against any backward step. In the meantime the government has been quietly making an investigation of its own. Out of this investigation and out of the mass of evidence produced, pro and con, these facts stand out clear and indisputable.

Public officials in both San Diego and Imperial counties are unanimously in favor of the present order, saying that it has materially reduced the number of crimes committed, that there has been less drunkenness and fewer accidents on the public highways. Welfare workers report improved moral and hygienic conditions along the border, especially with reference to juveniles. The bankers of Imperial valley, outside of Calexico, are unanimously of the opinion that the present order has kept many thousands of American dollars home which would otherwise have been squandered in dissipation and vice across the line.

One of the principal arguments advanced in asking to have the line reopened was that the present order had served its purpose and had forced an improvement in conditions across the line, notably in the suppression of gambling. This contention, it seems, was made too soon as recent press dispatches carry the news that gambling has reopened in Tia Juana. The fact that it is at present restricted to so-called "clubs" is of little consequence, inasmuch as membership in these clubs is free and easy, and quickly obtained by any one who has a dollar to spend.

After a review of the numerous letters, petitions and resolutions which had been sent him and which he in turn presented to the treasury department, Congressman Swing declared that while there had been occasional instances of inconvenience caused to legitimate business, yet the 9 o'clock closing order had in general worked so well that it was impossible to believe that the government would return to the old order of affairs. He predicted that the treasury department would shortly announce its determination to continue the order in effect.

IDAHO MAN SAYS STATE OFFERS MANY POINTERS IN IRRIGATION PROBLEMS

Californians, particularly those living in the southern part of the state, are great boosters, which is as it should be, but it takes more than enthusiasm and good intentions to divert nature's bountiful supply of water to thirsty acres. In this respect those entrusted with this task should take a few pointers from the state of Idaho, which, with rather limited resources as compared with the wealth of California, set about to secure for her fertile lands the water which ran unused into the Pacific. And it was done in a quiet, efficient and business-like manner.

This is the observation voiced by John Curran, millionaire sheepman of Hagerman, Idaho, who is convalescing at St. Ann's Inn.

Great Artificial Lake

Citing the Arrowrock reservoir, the cup of which Boise valley drinks, he said that it holds behind it a lake 18 miles long, containing when the dam is full, 280,000 acre feet of water. At this point the Boise river was blocked by a wall of concrete and steel 348 feet high and 223 feet wide at the base. The dam project cost between 10 and 12 millions, but it added $17 to the value of each acre of land reached by the impounded waters. More than 200 farms were given life by this enterprise, Curran explained. But that was only a beginning in the endeavor to hold the waters of floodtime until the hot days in late summer, when the streams should be at their lowest and the land at its driest, the sheepman continued.

American Falls Dam

Idaho is now engaged in the building of a mammoth dam at American Falls, on Snake river, which, when completed, will create a lake holding 1,700,000 acre feet of water. Already there is a low, curving power dam at this point. According to Curran, this dam will furnish water to a million acres of highly fertile soil. Consider the fact that the carrying out of this project will necessitate the removal of the city of American Falls, the present site of which will be under the waters of the dam, it is a feat that should arrest the attention of California water and irrigation men, he remarked. The town is being taken to an adjacent hillside, he added, where a new, model city is being built.

WOMAN IS GRANTED STAY IN SENTENCE

Because she explained to Justice K. M. Morrison that her daughter was ill with scarlet fever, and required her attention, Mrs. S. L. Grosso, of San Diego, who was to have started serving a 5-day sentence in the Orange county jail last night for speeding 37 miles an hour near Irvine, January 24, was granted a postponement of sentence, for two weeks, and returned to San Diego.

L. M. Nelson, wealthy Pasadena merchant, entered the Orange county jail last night to serve five days for speeding.

Nelson was convicted before Justice K. B. Morrison late yesterday, after his case had been set and re-set several times. Nelson was arrested December 21, charged with speeding 50 miles an hour.

Turner Gets His Automobile Back

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 12. —W. L. Turner was today in possession of his automobile which was stolen from a downtown street January 26. The car was recovered by the police with the assistance of the Automobile Club of Southern California, at Santa Margarita. The machine had been found there.

Night Coughing Stopped Quickly By Simple Treatment

Thousands who are troubled with persistent coughing at night, which by robbing them of valuable sleep weakens their systems and lays them open to dangerous infections, can quickly act to prevent this danger through a very simple treatment. People who have hardly been able to rest at all on account of coughing spells have found they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed often the first time they try it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring, and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is you usually sleep soundly the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DOCTORS MOVE INTO SPACIOUS NEW QUARTERS

Dr. C. D. Ball, pioneer Orange county physician, and his two sons, Dr. Dexter R. Ball and Dr. John T. Ball, have recently moved into spacious new offices at 412-414 and 410-411 Spurgeon Building. The suite of offices has a central reception room. Each doctor has a private consulting and examining room. There is an operating and X-ray room and laboratory across the hallway.

Dr. C. D. Ball has been one of Orange county's leading physicians and citizens for the past 38 years and it is his intention to retire from all active practice in the near future.

Dr. Dexter R. Ball graduated from the University of California in 1916, following which he entered the medical school of that institution. At the conclusion of the regular course he was a member of the resident staff of the University hospital in San Francisco for two years. He spent the first six months of that time in obstetrics under Dr. Frank Lynch. The remaining eighteen months were spent in diagnostic and medical service under Drs. Herbert C. Moffitt and William J. Kerr. Since 1922 he has been associated with his father in medical practice in Santa Ana.

Dr. John D. Ball is also a graduate of the University of California, year 1918. Upon graduation he entered the medical school of that institution. Completing courses there he spent three years in hospital work. The first year he spent at the University hospital in San Francisco under Dr. William P. Lucas, during which time his work was confined exclusively to the diseases of children and infant feeding. The remaining time was devoted to specializing in surgery at Boston, Mass. One year was spent at the Children's hospital in that city under Dr. J. S. Stone. Later he was appointed to the surgical teaching service of the Harvard Medical school and the Boston City hospital under Dr. Frank Lahey, professor of surgery at Harvard.

While the two younger doctors are at the present time following the respective branches of medicine in which they have received special training, it is the plan of Dr. Dexter R. Ball to ultimately limit his practice to diagnosis and internal medicine. Dr. John D. Ball will specialize exclusively in the practice of surgery.

BATS IN ORGAN

PARIS, Feb. 11.—One of the finest pipe organs in the world, the great organ of Notre Dame in this city, is being gradually destroyed by mildew, dead bats and swallows. The organ, with more than a dozen keyboards, has not been cleaned since 1894, and the dead birds and dirt are clogging up some of the pipes. The parish has become an extremely poor one and does not have money to repair the instrument.

SANTA ANA CIVIL WAR VET TELLS OF LINCOLN KNOWN TO HIS FAMILY IN ILLINOIS

BY ARVID E. GILMONT

Out on East Fourth street, or to be more exact, in the house numbered 806 of that thoroughfare, lives a civil war veteran whose recollections of Abraham Lincoln are based on an acquaintance of long standing formed back in Springfield, Illinois, the old home town of the famous president. His name is Francis M. Grigsby, a member of the Grigsby clan, the members of which settled in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois, and to whom frequent references are made in different biographies of the famous president. In this connection it might be added that it was to a Grigsby that Lincoln's father, Thomas Lincoln, sold his farm in Gentryville, Indiana, on moving to Illinois, and it was to another member of the Grigsby family that Sarah Lincoln, a sister of the "rail splitter," was married.

It was in his little home that Grigsby entertained a Register reporter with reminiscences of the great American. The old veteran, he soon will be 84, was among those who voluntarily responded to the call when the country was torn by civil war.

He dwelt with pardonable pride on the fact that Abraham Lincoln and his father, William Grigsby, were good friends from the time they were brought up together in Kentucky until they parted in Illinois, the president-elect going to the White House, and Grigsby's father joining the Union forces.

Served With Grant
In his blue eyes is light that glimmers and shines as he told the reporter that in his family both father and son went to war for the cause espoused by the North. The father, William Grigsby, served in the 103rd Illinois Infantry, and his son, the Santa Ana man, in Company "C" of the famous Eighth Illinois. The latter regiment, forming a part of General Grant's command, went through the entire campaign.

As the talk centered itself about facts and anecdotes of Lincoln's personal life, the old veteran told of a number of incidents that came to his mind, invariably supplemented by his own observations.

"There was never a better story teller in the whole state of Illinois, a gift that served him well in addressing public audiences," Grigsby remarked. "He never indulged in a questionable or what might be termed a smutty story, and he took no pains to conceal his disapproval of neighborhood scandal."

"To many people, including not a few Northerners in comfortable circumstances, Lincoln was what one might call an agitator, and many thought that his views on the slavery question were too advanced and impractical for practical application," he observed.

One of the outstanding incidents of Lincoln's life, and which paved his way to the White House, was the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates, the reporter was told. The old soldier has retained a vivid recollection of these debates, which he recalled because of the issues involved became the talk of the entire country. Prior to these debates Lincoln had attracted but little attention outside of his own surroundings, Grigsby asserted.

"Few of us thought at that time that the ungainly man with the long legs and large, square jaws would go down as one of the immortals of history," he mused.

Mention of the Lincoln-Douglas campaign served to recall to the memory of the Union soldier another incident of the great strife, which heretofore has been given but little publicity.

Resented Aristocratic Claims
In connection with the abolition issue, some of the Southern supporters and their organs committed the blunder of making references to aristocracy, in which the Southerners occupied the role of less genteel sons of the North were held to be "not so good." Referring to aristocracy in those days among the old fashioned Northerners, to whom the Declaration of Independence was their second Bible, and to whom Americanism spelled democracy in capital letters, were like warring a red rag in front of a mad bull, Grigsby explained.

"I believe that this attempt at class distinction and claim to superiority on the part of the South not only made votes for the North, but added recruits for its armies. That was the way my father felt about it anyway and there were many more like him," he concluded.

Love Affair Of Lumber Magnate Seen In Letters

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—Ardent love letters, buried six years ago in Topanga canyon, and said to reveal an amazing romance between a millionaire Portland lumberman and a Los Angeles woman, were investigated by authorities here today. The love missives, together with other securities totalling $100,000, were uncovered by workmen yesterday in the middle of Topanga canyon.

They were addressed to Mrs. May Otis Wieland, author of pamphlets forecasting the end of the world, and according to investigators, disclosed a passionate amour between the woman and the writer, a married man in Portland, Oregon.

Portland Denies Affairs With Woman
PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 12.—Freemont Everett, Portland lumberman, today denied he had ever written "love letters" to Mrs. May Otis Wieland, now of Los Angeles.

Everett, connected with the Sheridan Lumber company here, said he knew Mrs. Wieland through business deals with her. Everett is a small, elderly man, over 60 years of age. His associates say he is not the type of man who would get mixed up in any love affairs.

COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICTS WILL PICK TRUSTEES

With approach of the date set for election of school trustees in various elementary and high school districts in Orange county, except the city of Santa Ana, those interested in school affairs are beginning to cast about for candidates for the election to be held on March 27, it was learned today at the offices of the county superintendent of schools.

County Superintendent R. P. Mitchell today sent election supplies to the various school boards, together with printed instructions governing the election.

The California school law requires that not less than 30 days before the election the trustees must post notices in three public places in the district and publish the notices once a week for three weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the district, which notices must specify the time and place of election, number of trustees to be voted for, location of the polls, and hours during which the polls will be kept open.

The election will be held at the fire hall last night to a group of 30 men.

The chefs were busy virtually all day yesterday preparing the dinner, the efforts culminating in the serving of what those present declared was one of the most delicious meals it had been their privilege to enjoy for a long time.

The menu consisted of clam chowder, fried rabbit, combination salad, mashed potatoes, olives, pickles, celery, ice cream and waffles. Big husky firemen, in uniform, served as waiters and offered quick service to the guests at the table. Dinner also was sent out to firemen on duty at the east and west end fire stations.

The dinner was a courtesy by the Santa Ana Firemen's association and following the dinner a brief business session was held, with John P. Lacy, president, as chairman, and A. C. Fox, secretary, making an official record of the actions of the organization.

Legislation and matters pertaining to the association featured the business meeting, which included, J. W. Tabbs, mayor; E. B. Collier, fire commissioner; Nat H. Neff, street superintendent and city engineer; E. L. Vegely, city clerk; and Claude L. Sleeper, Fred J. Parsons and Mac Robbins, the latter three men being honorary members of the volunteer department.

Funeral services for the little victim will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow from the First Presbyterian church in Orange. Burial will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Shakespearean Offering Friday Evening Lauded

"An unusual opportunity is being offered Santa Ana to see Shakespeare dramatized," declared Ernest Crozier Phillips, local community play director and high school dramatics teacher, in commenting on the presentation by Fritz Leiber of "Macbeth" in the high school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Phillips has himself played in "Macbeth" with the Madame Helena Modjeska company in the years 1906-07.

"When I go to see the play tomorrow evening, it will be with a reminiscent attitude," he said as he mused over "those days."

"There is one thing about 'Macbeth,'" Phillips went on to say. "I never tired of acting in it even though we played it every night on long runs."

"Always, at each performance there was some point brought out in the acting that had never been impressed upon me."

Reports from the ticket sales at the Santa Ana bookstore today showed a steadily increasing demand indicating the possibility of a last minute rush before the house is sold out. Select seats are still available on the lower floor, according to Robert Brown of the Santa Ana bookstore.

Comments of Eastern critics are highly commendable of Fritz Leiber's interpretation.

"Fritz Leiber is the best interpreter of Shakespeare on the American stage," declares George Jean Nathan, editor of the American Mercury.

"No young actor of Shakespeare brings such qualifications to his task," says Lawrence Reamer of the New York Herald. "His burns with an order no other actor reveals the stage today, a whirlwind of expressive action and moving passion."

In the New York Sun, Stephen Rathbun says:

"Besides his natural qualifications as a Shakespearean actor—good looks, grace, poise, voice, magnetic training and all the rest—Fritz Leiber as star and director of his company has one godlike quality that should crowd the theater. He makes Shakespeare live again."

"Of the three Macbeths this justifying season has met—Fritz Leiber, Lionel Barrymore and Walter Hampden—Mr. Leiber was, without doubt, the best." Alexander Wood, dramatic critic for the New York Times.

FIREMEN COOK AND SERVE FINE DINNER

John Luxembourg, fire chief, and Ike Fields, a member of the fire department, today were being hailed by members of the department, some of the city officials and a few honorary members of the volunteer department as chefs par excellence, following a dinner prepared by them and served at the fire hall last night to a group of 30 men.

The chefs were busy virtually all day yesterday preparing the dinner, the efforts culminating in the serving of what those present declared was one of the most delicious meals it had been their privilege to enjoy for a long time.

S. A. KIWANIS HEAR TALK ON 'EMANCIPATOR'

Discussing before the Kiwanis club at St. Ann's Inn yesterday the subject, "The Problem of the Negro," the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the Congregational church, paid high tribute to the emancipator and his work for here and elsewhere he stands at the very front of national characters of the present and the past.

Pointing out the race problem was the problem left by the great president, the speaker said that the life and service of Lincoln was wrapped up with the colored race and all that was concerned with it.

"He freed the colored people—10,000,000 of them—but he left a great problem, the race problem," the Rev. Mr. Schrock said. "For many years it was the problem of the black and white, but today it is a world race problem, as it concerns Orientals, negroes and thousands of emigrants who come to our shores. The problem is the same in all nations."

"There is no better way of commemorating the birthday of Abraham Lincoln than giving consideration at this time to the race problem as it concerns this nation as well as all the nations of the world."

Discusses Race Problem
The speaker here discussed the original classification of races into two types—white, yellow, brown, black and red—and pointing out that scientists now were agreed that there are but three races, said that the world population of 1,700,000,000 was divided 550,000,000 to whites, 540,000,000 to yellows and 600,000,000 to blacks.

The whites, he said occupy four-tenths of the land of the world and have political control of nine-tenths. He asserted the whites are increasing more rapidly than other races, due not so much to increase in the birth rate as to the decrease in the death rate in the white race.

Recapitulating history carrying man to a period 50,000 years back, the Rev. Mr. Schrock said that the three present races were the development of thousands upon thousands of years of progress.

In the death race, the speaker said, the problem of this and other nations now is that the population of certain countries must overflow to other countries, and he recited how the influx to America was started first with the importation of negroes to provide cheap labor, and the later importation of Europeans for the same purpose.

Racial Barriers Broken
"Our modern civilization has broken down all barriers that formerly separated races," the speaker said preliminarily to the assertion that the white world is a better world than the mingling of races than do the men of the white race.

"We who are now living have the problem before us, and it is up to us to determine the kind of a world we are going to pass onto the next generation," the Rev. Mr. Schrock added, in emphasizing a point that each race thinks it is superior to the others.

"We send missionaries to foreign countries to civilize as heathens, and yet these heathens think we are heathens and have for us the same sympathy we have for them."

Concluding his address with an indication of the method by which the problem may be solved, the speaker said the superior race must demonstrate its superiority by service, and that the type of its service would manifest the contribution it is going to make to the world.

The address by the pastor was informative and interesting and was deeply appreciated by the Kiwanis club members.

A. Zerman, chairman of the educational committee, officiated as program chairman. An incident of the business session was the passing of a vote of appreciation to the management of St. Ann's Inn for the service rendered by the building.

Announcement Zone Meeting
Col. M. B. Wellington, lieutenant-governor, announced a zone meeting of the clubs of the ninth zone, Anaheim, Fullerton, La Habra and Whittier, at Elks club, Anaheim, on February 24. A. Leach, district governor of this Kiwanis district, will be present, and outline a program for Kiwanis activity he has developed for the year.

BUILDERS' QUERIES ANSWERED

By Southern California Chapter, Associated General Contractors of America.

Q. Can you tell me what extent concrete tile will resist heat?
A. In a test recently made under the auspices of concrete tile manufacturers, a small building 10 by 12 feet in dimension, constructed of concrete tile, was set on fire. The maximum heat registered during the test reached 1800 degrees Fahrenheit. The outside wall of the building remained cool to the touch during the entire test. When it is known that the melting point of bronze is 1632 degrees Fahrenheit and that of white cast iron is 2000 degrees Fahrenheit, some idea of resistance of concrete tile can be imagined.

Q. I entered into a contract with a contractor to furnish labor and material for placing hardwood floors in my home. The contractor was paid for the flooring when it was delivered and the labor when the flooring was completed. I find that the contractor has not paid for the flooring and the hardwood floor company threaten to file a lien on the building unless I pay for the material. If I pay this bill the second time, can I recover from the contractor?

A. In the first place you should have investigated the responsibility of the contractor. Next, you should not have paid the contractor for the material until you had satisfied yourself that he would apply the payment on the purchase price of the materials or determined that his credit was good for that amount. It may be possible for you to get judgment against the contractor for the amount of the material. A judgment does not necessarily mean recovery of your money. We are continually warning the public against such transactions. Investigate your man before signing a contract.

Q. Should a sub-floor be placed under a hardwood floor?
A. Yes, a sub-floor constructed of seven-eighths inch material should be placed under all hardwood floors.

Q. If I agree to purchase a home for $3800, paying at the time of purchase $800, the balance to be paid in monthly installments of $50, which includes interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, how long will it take me to pay for the place?

A. It will take you six years, two months and approximately 19 days to pay the place out on the above terms.

PIONEER PASSES AT S. A. HOSPITAL

George Rodolphus West, 75, pioneer citizen of Santa Ana, and prominent building contractor, died at the Santa Ana Valley hospital at 9 a. m. today, following a six weeks' illness. He had been confined to the hospital for a month.

Funeral services will be held from the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and burial will be made in Fairhaven cemetery. The Rev. Otto S. Russell, pastor of the First Baptist church, here, will have charge of the services.

Born in 1850, in Cummings, Ga., Mr. West came to California in 1887, and had been a resident in Santa Ana since that time, a period of 38 years.

For 28 years he was connected in a business way with the Griffith Lumber company here, later going in business for himself, doing general contracting. He helped to build the old First National bank building at the corner of Fourth and Main streets, now vacant, and built the old Central school house, which formerly occupied the site where the new Y. M. C. A. stands.

Surviving Mr. West is his widow, Mrs. Ella West, one sister, Mrs. Emily Dwyer, of Anderson, S. C., and the following children: Mrs. Louis Maddux, Bakersfield; Mrs. Emily Dwyer, Los Angeles; Dr. F. W. West, San Gabriel, T. S. West, San Francisco; F. S. West, Terra Bella; Theo West, Santa Ana; Roy West, Santa Ana, and George West, El Segundo. A niece, Miss Cecily Divinger, Santa Ana, also survives.

The Madness of Youth

When he left his childhood sweetheart in the little town where they were born, and went to the city to embark on a "career," he began counting the days when he could return and make her his wife. But he knew little of the lure of the great city, with all its follies and gaieties, to turn his head and blot his childhood sweetheart from his memory.

The experience of this young man in the city is an all too common one—but it serves to prove that love is a holy and sacred thing, and that he who yields to the voice of the tempter simply invites disillusionment, defeat and tragedy. Q. Can you suggest a practical and substantial, as well as an inexpensive, construction for a garage which is not intended for a permanent structure?
A. A wall board garage would possibly suit your needs. See any lumber dealer regarding plans and details for such a garage.

Q. Can tar and gravel be successfully applied over an ordinary composition roof?
A. Yes, if the old roofing paper is not in too bad a condition. You should apply one thickness of three-ply felt paper, then tar and gravel. If the paper is in very bad condition, remove and apply as for new roof.

Q. How many shingles will it require to cover a house 24x32 feet?
As you have not given the pitch of the roof or projection for eaves we cannot answer your question. One thousand shingles, laid four inches to the weather will cover 100 square feet of surface and five pounds of shingle nails will be required to fasten them on.

Q. Will you please define a "lien"?
A. A "lien" is a charge imposed upon specific property by which it is made security for the payment of a debt or performance of an act. There are many kinds of liens, as mechanic's lien, tax lien, mortgage lien, equitable lien, etc.

Q. Will you please define an option?
A. An option is an instrument or contract whereby the purchaser or seller has been given a definite period in which he may sell or purchase a piece of property at a stipulated price. Options are also given in connection with other business transactions and have the same effect as in the purchase of property.

Q. I am planning to erect a four-room house on the rear of my lot; what width passageway am I required to leave from the street?
A. An unobstructed passageway of at least 10 feet in width is required from any rear dwelling to the street unless the rear dwelling has such passageway to an alley at least 10 feet wide.

Q. What procedure should I take in applying plaster on concrete?
A. Where plaster is applied to concrete, brick or tile, or plaster blocks, the surface shall be thoroughly cleaned and wet before plastering is applied.

SURVEY SHOWS BUILDING IS ON INCREASE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—(P.)

Buildings made early last month that building activities for 1925 would show an increase over last year, are becoming more certain each day, according to a survey made by the Southern California chapter, Associated General Contractors.

"The trend in building activities throughout the nation is upward," the contractors' association, who bases his assumption on reports from the construction centers of the east. "Possibly the most authentic report," he said, "was compiled and printed in the last issue of Engineering-News Record, which shows the trend of construction, upward, geographically as follows: New England, more commercial buildings; middle Atlantic states, increased activities in residential and industrial work; the south, mainly institutional and residential buildings; the west, a greater volume of construction in industrial, recreational, educational, institutional and public projects.

"There is still need for additional building in the United States," stated S. W. Straus, head of S. W. Straus Co., one of the nation's largest investment and banking houses, yesterday at the Ambassador hotel, Los Angeles, where he will remain for a month.

"The reason I am fundamentally optimistic is because building activities of large proportion will continue. No man can read the future, but my analysis of the situation leads unmistakably to the belief that 1925 will see great building and construction work in all parts of the country."

Questions of re-financing the farmer, co-operative marketing, diversification of crops, date and grapefruit culture, California farm land conditions, and a general discussion of the back to the land movement will come up Friday, February 27 at the El Centro, when the California Real Estate association, at the invitation of the Imperial Valley realtors, will hold its first farm lands conference at the Hotel Barbara Worth. Announcement to this effect was made today by J. Bradley Clayton, of San Jose, chairman of the farm lands division of the state association.

All realty boards and business men of every walk of life are invited to attend the session. The conference will be held in the morning and afternoon, and arrangements may be made for an evening meeting.

Among the speakers already secured are President D. Richard Ainsley of the state association; Harvey M. Toy, chairman of the California Highway commission, who will speak on "The Relation of Highways to Farm Real Estate"; Frazier O. MAKE CHANGES IN TRUSTEES AT LA HABRA

LA HABRA, Feb. 12.—Two new members were appointed by the board of city trustees Tuesday night.

James C. Howard was named to succeed Walter Cooley, whose resignation was accepted last week and J. G. Launer was chosen to succeed G. E. Sutton, whose resignation was offered Tuesday night and accepted with regret.

Two petitions were filed with the board, one asking that F. D. McFadden be appointed in place of Cooley and the other asking Howard's appointment.

Mr. Howard is serving his second term as president of the chamber of commerce. He has always been actively interested in civic affairs, and was on the committee which paved the way for incorporation of La Habra.

Mr. Launer is one of the pioneers of La Habra. When the convalesces for city trustees were held it was the wish of a majority of voters in the northeast section that he represent them on the board, but Mr. Launer was then in the east, and his name could not be put on the ballot. Mr. Sutton did not wish to be a candidate for trustee, but agreed to stand for election with the understanding that as soon as possible he would resign in Mr. Launer's favor. The board took cognizance of this agreement in electing Mr. Launer.

An ordinance was passed declaring that the probable city tax rate for 1925-26 will be 60 cents on the $100 of assessed valuation. The tax rate cannot be officially set until later in the year, but as La Habra had no tax rate last year it was necessary to adopt a tentative figure for the benefit of the county assessing force, so that it may collect on unsecured personal property at the time the assessment is made. If this tentative rate is adhered to it will mean a net increase of 20 cents in local taxes, assuming that the county rate is the same as last year.

Other officers named are as follows: First vice president, E. L. Matthews, Santa Ana; treasurer, J. R. Ranney, Los Angeles; E. C. Proper, Los Angeles; director, P. B. Fidler, Los Angeles.

McFadden came to the Southland from Swift Current, Saskatchewan, Canada, where he engaged in business for many years. For twenty years he was president of the firm of McEwan & Daugherty, dealers in farm implements in North Dakota. At present he is president of the Great West Implement company of Saskatchewan; president of the McEwan, Dougherty & West Grain company, owning and operating a chain of grain elevators in Canada, and senior member of the garage firm of McEwan, West & Lamm company. For many years, McEwan held the office of president of the city planning commission of Swift Current, Canada.

MOTHER HALTS BATTLE OF LAW AND FUGITIVE

OZARK, Ark., Feb. 11.—Surrounding the cabin of Neal McLaughlin, Ozark mountaineer, were Sheriff Zeb Davis of Franklin county, Sheriff A. D. Maxey of Crawford county, a score of deputies, and national guardsmen armed with machine guns.

True to a promise made during his recent campaign for sheriff, Davis was out to capture McLaughlin, a fighter and a stormy figure in mountain feuds.

The first sortie on the house where McLaughlin and his brother lay barricaded was repulsed. The officers retreated and returned again with the guardsmen and machine guns.

The formidable force awed the McLaughlins not a whit. "Surrender!" cried the officers. "Come and take us!" returned the McLaughlins.

The deputy sheriffs and their leaders picked points of vantage behind rocks and inspected their rifles. The machine gun squad trained its bullet-spraying weapons on the cabin. The fight was about to begin.

It was then that a woman, old and gray-haired, but with figure still erect and step still brisk, was seen coming up the little winding path that led from the McLaughlin home to the sheriff's house.

"Near's mother," he told the possemen.

Tames Spirit of Son. Mrs. Frances McLaughlin, 84 years old, had heard that her son lay in a barricaded cabin living with a daughter, several miles away, but she set out on foot for the spot.

"I'll bring him out," she told Sheriff Davis, and made her way on to the mountaineer's home. In a short time she returned to the waiting officers.

"Neal's changed his mind," she informed the officers. "If the sheriff will go up there Neal'll come back with him."

The sheriff went up and in a few moments he and Neal, chatting and laughing, emerged from the house.

"Knowned that somebody would get killed," Mrs. McLaughlin explained. "I always was the only one that could do anything with Neal. I just talked horse sense to him."

The small army of officers started for the Franklin county jail with their man. Mrs. McLaughlin, with a paring rejoinder to Neal about being "a good boy," started on her return journey.

Captive Held in Jail. McLaughlin is held in jail at Ozark awaiting trial. He has had a colorful and stormy career. Known as the best rifle shot in his section of the state and a man of fiery temper and proved courage, he had been a central figure in the long enduring mountain quarrels that smolder for intervals and then flare up like gunpowder when a match is applied.

Neal McLaughlin was condemned to death several years ago, but his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Brough. He remained in prison until 1917, when he escaped.

An attempt to capture him several weeks ago was foiled and Davis, then a candidate for sheriff, promised that he would see that the fugitive was jailed if he was elected. He won the office and made good his promise, but Neal's neighbors shake their heads and say it was lucky for the sheriffs and their forces that "Aunt Frances come over and took charge of Neal."

VICTORY OVER PALOS VERDES IS TOO CLOSE

Hacienda to Enter Finals; Begin Handicap Ranking At Local Country Club

Final League Standings
Hacienda	58 1/2
Santa Ana	53 1/2
Oakmont	36 1/2
Palos Verdes	26 1/2

Santa Ana Country club's 10-man golf team defeated Palos Verdes, 9 to 6, in the closing inter-club league match of the season yesterday but the margin of victory was too small to overcome the long lead snatched by Hacienda when it won, 13 1-2 to 1 1-2, from Oakmont.

Captain H. B. Van Dien's local team made a gallant effort to take 14 1-2 points for these were necessary to give it the championship but the handicap of playing against some fine golfers on a foreign course proved too great.

Hacienda, the only other Orange county club in the league, now has the privilege of entering the semifinals of Class B in the play-off for the Southern California inter-club championship. Deciding matches will be played over neutral links.

Yesterday's regulars were: J. W. Tubbs and Robert Reid (Santa Ana) defeated Kirk and Roemer (Palos Verdes), 2 to 1. Bauer and Miller (Palos Verdes) defeated Mark B. Lacy and W. G. Sydney Harris, 3 to 0.

Hussey and Taber (Palos Verdes) won from C. D. Holmes and Charles W. (Santa Ana), 2 to 1. H. B. Van Dien and J. P. Parsons (Santa Ana) defeated McDermott and Baxter (Palos Verdes), 3 to 0.

C. E. Parker and Charles Holcombe (Santa Ana) won from Clarke and Lawyer (Palos Verdes), 3 to 0.

Medal play to divide the membership of the Santa Ana Country club into A and B or high and low handicap lists has begun under the direction of a new handicap committee appointed by President C. G. Twist.

Members of the committee are John W. Tubbs, chairman; Roy Russell, W. E. Chilson, C. W. Holcombe and E. D. Holmes Jr. The handicap rating is being rushed in preparation for different cup and tournament play on the club's schedule for the immediate future.

The handicap committee requests all members to turn in cards at the conclusion of their next round.

SANTA ANA IS CINDER LOSER TO SAN PEDRO

Adkinson Keeps Stars Out of Favorite Events For Sake of Saturday Meet

Without the services of several veterans and on a "ploughed lot" track and field that sloped and slanted enough to give a map-maker the "heebie-jeebies," Santa Ana high school's track team dropped a practice meet with San Pedro yesterday 62 to 51.

Coach Ray Adkinson kept several of his leading candidates out of the meet entirely and others he prohibited from participating in more than one event. Little "Howy" Paul was permitted to grab his usual first places in the pole vault and broad jump but he was chased to the showers before his favorite track race—the low hurdles—were run off. Santa Ana forfeited all points in both hurdles.

Santa Ana and Poly track co-ops join hands Saturday and go against the U. S. C. freshmen at Los Angeles and in that affair Adkinson will let his men cut loose with everything they have.

Harvey Bear, Poly's new sprint sensation, gave the boys a thrill by winning the 100 yard dash in 10 flat but the track was down a sloping hill so Bear's time won't go on the books as any kind of a Poly record.

The results of the meet: 100 yard dash—Bear (SA) first; G. English (SA) second; Tarr (San Pedro) third. Time, 10 sec.

220 yard dash—Bear (SA) first; Wagner (SP) second; G. English (SA) third. Time, 23 sec.

440 yard dash—Howard (SA) first; Dupey (SP) second; Young (SA) third. Time, 56.35 sec.

880 yard dash—McKean (SA) first; Hall (SP) second; Smith (SA) third. Time, 2 min. 15 sec.

1 mile—Hansen (SP) first; Hamilton (SA) second; Ludwig (SP) third. Time, 5 min. 15 sec.

Shot put—Dawson (SA) first; Cathcart (SA) second; Foster (SP) third. Time, 42 feet, 2 inches.

Discus—Foster (SP) first; Hall (SP) second; Paul (SA) third. Time, 106 feet, 5 inches.

High jump—San Pedro won all three places.

Broad jump—Paul (SA) first; McKean (SA) second; Foster (SP) third. Time, 21 feet, 4 inches.

Pole vault—Paul (SA) first; Smith (SP) second; McDermott (SA) third. Height, 10 feet, 6 inches.

Relay—Won by San Pedro.

S. F. To Repel Invasion of Eastern Boxers

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—Reports from San Francisco that boxing clubs were preparing to repel an army of eastern "ham and egg" who have sought to derive the benefits of California's new boxing laws found a different situation here.

Recent bouts in this section have featured "Louis" (Kid) Kaplan, Tommy Loughran, Johnny Buff, Alex Hart and Ace Hudkins in action. All have given pleasing performances and there has been no fault found with the matchmaking that brought them here. Mickey Walker, welterweight champ, is to meet Bert Colima soon in another outstanding bout.

The San Francisco mail was over the fact that fighters with a string of clipplings from eastern papers were edging the local talent out the picture, with the added complaint that after all the coast boxers gave the fans more for their money.

B. FAHY FORD BOWLERS MEET S. A. TONIGHT

Closing first round games in the Southern California Bowling league find the Bowles Motor company quintette, Santa Ana representatives, at home again tonight and pitted against the strong J. Benjamin Fahy Ford agency team from Los Angeles.

The three-game series between these competitors will be rolled at the A. and B. alleys beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Suffering several consecutive 3 to 1 reversals, the Santa Ana overgrown marble rollers—Captain "Stormy" Gordon, Max Ames, Guy Martin, "Larry" Larrison and Penny Jones—have dropped into the second division but they are not yet out of the title race. The league has 16 more weeks to go before the championship is definitely determined and the winning team is on its way to bowl in the Pacific Coast tourney at San Francisco.

One of the best known pin-crashers in the Southern will appear on the local circuits with the Fahys tonight. Ona Gregg, former "ace" of the Harold Lloyd quintette and a 200 average shooter in any man's league, will head the invaders.

With him will be Bennett, who is punishing the pins for a mere mark of 195 per game. Torian (181), Brahm (179) and Leonard (179) will be the other members of the Los Angeles delegation.

'Y' QUINTETTE DEFEATS POLY OUTFIT, 13-7

High School 110-Pounders Beat Huntington Beach; Welterweights Also Cop

Coach Bob Russick's Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. basketball quintette made it two out of three in its series with Lyman Kidman's Poly varsity last night when it had a 13 to 7 advantage in a melee at the 'Y' gym.

The match was hard fought all the way, many personal fouls being called. Anderson, 'Y' captain and center, was the individual star of the struggle. Beatty also played well. Norton, Poly forward and captain, was kept out of the game. He has a bad leg and Kidman didn't want to take a chance of injuring him for the Fullerton match here tomorrow.

In preliminary contests, the Y. M. C. A. 145-pound quintette overwhelmed the Huntington Beach high school welterweights, 32 to 6, and the high school Class C (110-pound) squad trimmed the Huntington Beach midgets, 21 to 7.

'BIG' MUNN EASILY DEFEATS ZBYSKO

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 12.—Wayne ("Big") Munn held his title of world's wrestling champion by defeating Stanislaus Zbyszko before a crowd of 15,000 wrestling fans here last night.

The match was scheduled for the two best out of three falls but the giant Pole's back was pinned to the mat in the first two falls after only a few minutes of struggle. Munn used his famous crotch hold and half Nelson.

The youthful champion, whose six feet seven inches, towered over the short Pole, held his opponent with comparative ease and at no time during the match was he in danger.

Valla and Griffin Sign With Seals
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—Gene Valla, centerfielder, and Martin Griffin, pitcher, have signed their 1925 contracts with the Seals. Both were given substantial salary increases. Hal Rhyne, shortstop, Bob Geary, pitcher, Eddie Mulligan, Paul Waner and "Flash" Kamper are the only holdouts now. They are expected to sign before the squad gathers at Boys Springs Monday.

POLY RACKETERS BUSY
Poly's tennis team, reported to be the strongest in recent years, is scheduled to make its first match play start of the season against the Harvard Military academy next week. The Coast league's schedule doesn't begin until April 4.

AUSTIN AND BLAEHOLDER OFF SUNDAY FOR ST. LOUIS CAMP

Jimmy Austin, coach, "pepper-box" man and right hand bowler of Manager George Sisler of the St. Louis Browns of the American League, bids fond adieu to Laguna Beach and Santa Ana early Sunday morning and hies himself away for another grueling baseball campaign in the "big tent."

With the veteran—one of the oldest baseball men in point of service to one club now in the majors—will go the youthful George Blaeholder of Garden Grove, a big left pitcher, who has shown so much stuff in when he is merely going to participate in an exhibition and his appearance in any meet must be advertised as he announces.

Fred W. Rubien, secretary of the A. A. U. admitted that he had heard complaints from several clubs that Nurni had given unsatisfactory performances because in a few instances he had failed to make a new world's record.

Rubien said that the promoters were to blame for any complaints that may have come from the public.

"I knew," he said, "that Nurni has been begged by some promoters to run in meets for their clubs. They have asked him to come and just run around the track and he has accepted. And then the promoters go out and advertise that Nurni is going to try for a dozen world's records."

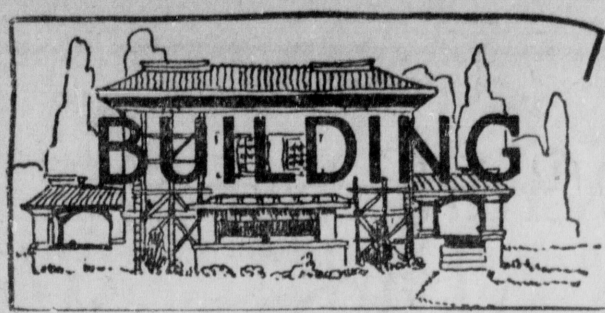

Rubien said that Nurni is entering a lot of meets now against his wishes, but he does not want to give any offense and he doesn't know how to turn down an invitation.

To Open Camp.
Austin was asked by Manager George Sisler to go to Torpaa Springs a week in advance of even the vanguard of Brown batters and youngsters. The veteran Sisler wouldn't trust the multitudinous duties connected with opening a training camp for some 40-odd ball players to any other than the veteran.

The Browns, most of them, at least, are going to live in a large hotel at the Florida resort and Austin must attend to getting things arranged for the players, determining that the diamond is fit for the first workout and that the training quarters are o. k. It will be there ready to greet the first stragglers that arrive for early workouts.

Austin, as usual, has enjoyed his winter at balmy Laguna Beach. He is a confirmed Orange county resident now and says there isn't any place in the world like this section.

Test Fo. Blaeholder.
This will be the testing season for young Blaeholder. The husky Garden Grove boy had a great season with Tulare in the Western league last year when he

START WORK ON NEW HOME OF BOY SCOUT ORGANIZATION

Believe Structure Will Be Completed, Ready For Occupancy By March 15

700,000 BOYS ARE ENROLLED

Anniversary Week Is Observed By Thousands of Members Over World

Anniversary Week of the Boy Scout organization is being observed with the erection at Church and Sycamore streets, opposite the Y. M. C. A., of a building which will serve as the county headquarters.

The structure will occupy ground space 24x36 feet and will be of frame construction. It will cost approximately $2000. Plans were drawn by Wyvill & Bryan. The general contract is held by E. A. Noe. The building will consist of one large room and three smaller rooms.

It is estimated that the building will be completed and ready for occupancy by March 15, at which time the executive quarters in the H'ill building will be moved to the new location.

Formed 15 Years Ago.

The Boy Scout organization was exactly 15 years old on last Sunday. On Tuesday, more than 700,000 Scouts and Scout leaders and more than 2,000,000 past Scouts renewed together their pledge in Scouting.

"The starting of work on the building at Church and Sycamore streets was made possible through the confidence of a number of Orange county people that Scouting is an established concern and that it should not be handicapped for lack of office conference or storage facilities," said Roland E. Dye, Scout executive, today. "Scouting is not an organization which institutionalizes itself and therefore, there are no large pretentious Scout buildings anywhere. Scouting is a supplementary program and church buildings, school buildings, even homes are the places used by Scouts as meeting places and headquarters. The great out of doors and open spaces is the place where the Scouting program is actually carried on."

Cartmell Is Happy to Return Here

Nate Cartmell, former resident of Santa Ana, this week returned here to become identified with the title department of the Reliance Title company. Cartmell has been with the California Title Insurance company in Los Angeles for many years.

"No place in Southern California can compare with Santa Ana as a place of residence, and I am mighty happy to be back in my old home city," Cartmell said.

Cartmell expects to induct his mother, and possibly one of his sisters to return here to take up a permanent residence.

FREIGHT DATA IS DESIRED BY TWO CHAMBERS

Committees from the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce today had joined in an appeal to merchants and shippers of the county to file at once with either of the organizations data on tonnage of freight they could receive or ship through Orange county harbor were that project completed to the point where water transportation was available.

General Lansing H. Beach, former chief of the army board of engineers and now consulting engineer for the Orange county harbor commission, is preparing a report on the harbor to be submitted soon to the county commission. It is his desire to present as far as possible concrete information on the possible tonnage that would be available to the harbor, both incoming and outgoing.

Wants Tonnage Facts
Such information can best be supplied by those who have freight shipments, and the committee requests all interests to send in letters giving data on probable tonnage that could be shipped via Newport.

"General Beach desires to hear from all those who are interested in a personal way or in shipments," A. L. Oliver, secretary of the Santa Ana chamber, said today. "A file indicating probable volume of shipments is being prepared to supplement previous reports. 'Every merchant and shipper in the county should write a strong letter of endorsement and mail it at once to the local chamber or to the harbor chamber at Newport Beach.'"

"In preparation of his report on the harbor, General Beach plans to cover every important detail and proposes to make reference to the keen interest in the harbor project of county merchants and shippers."

Oliver has mailed out to a number of business men of Santa Ana

REMODELING OF STORE FRONTS IS UNDER WAY

Fronts built by the late Ira Chandler in 1887 when he erected the business structures at 508-12 North Main street today were being substituted by modern fronts, under the direction of the present owners, heirs of the pioneer business men of Santa Ana.

Remodeling of the fronts and other improvements to be made in the interior of the business rooms will cost in excess of $5000, it was estimated by Ray Chandler, of the Chandler Furniture company.

The improvements are being made in anticipation of leases being taken by business firms, but as yet, no definite lease has been made on either of the store rooms.

Following completion of the three store rooms in 1887, at the time considered an important business house construction, Ira Chandler established a grocery store in one of the rooms, renting the remaining two for other business enterprises.

Later, the senior Chandler established a second hand furniture store on the southeast corner of Bush and Fourth streets, the present site of the store of Reinhaus brothers, and followed this with the opening of a store for new furniture at the North Main street location. A few years later the second hand business was consolidated with the new furniture store on North Main. The Chandler Furniture store continued operations there until it removed seven years ago to its present location on the southwest corner of Main and Third streets.

HARBOR AT NEWPORT IS FEATURED IN FEBRUARY ISSUE OF L. A. MAGAZINE

Newport harbor is featured in the February issue of Southern California Business, a monthly magazine published by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Interesting facts and figures and pictures of Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce and the harbor are published.

Excerpts from the article follow: "One who is acquainted with the geography Newport bay can realize the extent of the body of water that stretches inland. All this bay will someday be converted into an ideally land-locked harbor. The entrance to the bay has been partly cleared so that fair sized vessels may enter."

North Side Dredged

Dredging has been carried on along the north side of the main bay as far west as the main Santa Ana and Newport highway. A similar channel will be dredged along the south side of the bay allowing vessels to make the complete circuit. At a later date it is proposed that the channel to the upper basin will be dredged, thus affording several miles more of harbor frontage.

"One of the important features of establishing a harbor at Newport is that none of the commercial activities will interfere materially with the residential section nor will it in any way spoil the bay district for tourists."

"The task of carrying on this work is being directed largely by Harry Welch, the secretary of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce. If the program planned by Secretary Welch and officials of that organization is carried out, and there is every probability that it will be—the people of Southern California will have cause to marvel at the transformation so skillfully wrought at Newport Beach."

Lumber Port Years Ago
"That the aims of those back of the project are not by any means a mere dream is brought out by the fact that some years ago before Los Angeles harbor was the teaming center that it is today, Newport had a pier extending out crudely into the deep water of the ocean front and did a considerable lumber business and was no small factor in coastwise shipping. Gradually this business has drifted to Los Angeles harbor, but there is a certainty that much of it will be won back as soon as Newport bay is truly converted into the harbor that is now planned and the work of which is now well under way."

Valuable Holdings
"Orange county now owns more than 265 acres of land in the bay area having about 5000 feet of water frontage on the lower portion of the bay and along the county channel and about two miles of possible water frontage along the upper bay. Tide lands now claimed by private individuals but subject to the use of the county will amount to more than 250 acres, an additional two miles or more of water frontage."

"Army engineers have given hearty co-operation in the matter of planning harbor work. All the reports thus far submitted and all

NEGRO RESORT NEAR H. B. WILL COST $200,000

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 12.

Expenditures aggregating more than $200,000 will be made within the next six months in establishment of a summer resort for negroes on seven acres of beach land east of this city recently purchased from S. H. Finley, of Santa Ana, by a group of Los Angeles financiers. While the operations are being conducted by the Pacific Coast club, investigations at the county recorder's office in Santa Ana disclosed that the property had been deeded to Hal R. Clark and his wife, Carolyn E. Clark, of Los Angeles.

It was said that within the next six months building improvements costing between $100,000 and $200,000 would be made on the property, with a total expenditure of $500,000 contemplated before completion of the building program.

Charles E. Rowe, Long Beach contractor, is in charge of the work, and announced that construction work would commence at once on a bath-house. The building will be 100 feet wide by 100 feet long. A dance hall of the same dimensions will be constructed soon afterward.

More than 200 two-room beach cottages of stucco are to be built at once by the company also, it was announced.

Coincident with the announcement of the improvements on this property, came the announcement today that James H. Macklin, local city councilman, and large property owner along the state highway between this city and Newport, had disposed of property interests to a large corporation in Los Angeles which will make a summer resort of the highest type. According to the information received here today the Macklin property will be highly improved and an auto tourist camp will be installed at once.

Included in the plans for the beach resort which is being built on the Finley property situated near two and one-half miles from Huntington Beach will be a pleasure pier, amusement concessions, merry-go-rounds, roller coasters, and other beach attractions according to Rowe. Construction work will also be started at once on a sea wall along the 1500 feet of ocean frontage owned by the group.

Incidentally, it was announced that while the resort will be destined for use as a summer resort for negroes, it will also be open to

TO BUILD 100 DWELLINGS AT S. A. HEIGHTS DURING YEAR

$250,000 Will Be Spent By Subdividers In Erecting Attractive Residences

EDISON CREWS TO FINISH WORK SOON

1,100,000 Gallons of Pure Artesian Water on Hand At All Times

One hundred residences, representing an investment of $250,000, will be erected in the Santa Ana Heights tract this year, it was announced today by William M. McCoy, of the subdividing firm of Bryan & Bradford and William M. McCoy.

It was revealed by McCoy that the mains of the Southern California Gas company have been laid to practically every part of the property and that the Southern California Edison company is rapidly installing a complete electrical system.

Edison crews started Tuesday to weave a network of poles throughout the subdivision. A pole setting machine, brought from Los Angeles, is setting poles at the rate of every six minutes.

Machine Works Rapidly
The apparatus is operated on a big motor truck and is manned by a crew of 10 men. It is equipped with a long steel bar which digs a hole the required size immediately following this operation, huge mechanical arms grasp the telephone pole, raise it from the ground and place it in the hole. Follow-up crews then attend to the task of stringing the wires. The machine does the work of 50 men, it is said.

Two sets of wire systems, one for heating and cooking, and the other for lighting, are being installed at Santa Ana Heights. It is estimated that the Edison company will have the work completed within 10 days.

The water system at Santa Ana Heights is declared to be one of the most complete and up-to-date in California. The Santa Ana Heights Water company, located on the tract, is a non-profit concern, owned by the land owners. A total of 1,100,000 gallons of pure artesian water is on hand at all times.

Of the 1,100,000 gallons, 500,000 gallons are in the concrete reservoir adjoining the pumping plant, another 500,000 are in a steel tank south of the pumping apparatus and the remaining 100,000 gallons are located in the distributing vates.

The water is secured from a 720 foot well located on tract set aside for water purposes.

$100,000 Spent On Streets
McCoy stated that $100,000 has been expended by his firm in the construction of streets, sidewalks and curbs.

Already 55 homes have been erected at Santa Ana Heights and a number are now under construction. Among these is one which W. J. Lawver, manager of the branch office at 208 West Second street, is building for himself on Monte Vista avenue, between Orange and Santa Ana avenues. The dwelling is situated on a five acre site which Lawver will plant to onions, berries and melons.

W. L. Shibley, who has contracted to build a number of dwellings at Santa Ana Heights, is erecting the Lawver home.

The Lawver home will have hardwood floors. It will have a large open fireplace and will be electric.

FINDS AMBERGRIS

NEW BEDFORD, Feb. 12.—While tramping around Nantucket with his dog, Edward Dabis noticed a sticky, waxy mass wedged in between the rocks. He passed it by, but the dog kept barking at it to attract Davis' attention. Davis dug it out and, after taking it to New Bedford, found that it was ambergris, very valuable in making perfume. The sale of it netted him nearly $1800.

Flora Lee, selfish young daughter of the aristocratic family of Peake, and her younger though far more sensible sister Margaret, are both in love with Admah Holtz, rising young candy manufacturer who is long on money but shy on culture.

Holtz marries Flora Lee, the girl who turned her back on him when he was poor, only to realize that it is not he she loves but his money. Flora Lee gives a big candy ball which ruins Admah. He goes to prison. The girl goes off with another man while Margaret backs up young Holtz; he fights back, has partially recovered, when Flora Lee returns, half out of her head, to the house of Peake, now used as a tenement. OBITUARY

William David King, who passed away suddenly last Friday at his home near Taconia, Montague county, Texas, September 17, 1880. He received his early education in Texas, and took up the profession of pharmacy, later going into business for himself at Frederick, Oklahoma, where he lived for a number of years.

For nine years Mr. King was cashier of the National Bank of Commerce in Frederick, Okla., but his health became impaired after a serious attack of influenza and pneumonia. Six years ago Mr. King came with his family to California, where they stayed for some time in Los Angeles and Long Beach. Mr. King entirely recovering his health.

In August, 1920, Mr. King came to Santa Ana, being cashier for the Southern California Edison company, and later taking a position as teller in the First National bank, where he was a popular and trusted employee at the time of his death. He made hosts of friends through his quiet and courteous manner, and his pleasant face will be greatly missed from his window, where a kindly greeting was always ready for his patrons.

Mr. King was married on September 23, 1917, in Frederick, Okla., his wife and one little daughter, Dorothy Jane, aged six years, being left to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. King, reside in Chillicothe, Tex., the father and brother, Harry C. King, being here for the funeral, also his sister, Mrs. J. C. Prescott and son, J. C., Jr., of Oklahoma City, Okla.

The funeral services were held last Monday at 3:30 p. m., in the Smith and Tullih chapel, which was not large enough to accommodate the many friends who were present to pay their last tribute of respect to the deceased. The First National bank force and the Masons, of which Mr. King was a member, attended in a body, the Blue lodge conducting the services at the grave and the Knights Templar forming the escort.

The Rev. Moffett E. Rhodes of the Spurgeon Memorial church (South Methodist) of which Mr. King was a member, and the Rev. Otto S. Russell of the First Baptist church, to which Mrs. King belongs, conducted the impressive last rites, Robert Brown singing the comforting solos.

The national bank and included W. B. Williams, Charles Pritchard, Harry I. Hanson, C. M. Rowland, C. A. Swanson and Dean Campbell.

the public. It is understood that arrangements for police protection, life guards and other safeguards are being made in preparation for the summer months. Many Los Angeles negroes have been in this vicinity during the past several weeks looking over the situation.

Objection on the part of local people to the proposed colony here was today cooling down considerably when it became known that nothing could be done about the matter. A committee from the chamber of commerce was appointed at the last meeting of that organization to investigate the matter of the alleged colony resort. With the prospect for nearly $500,000 in improvements between this city and Newport Beach to be completed during the coming year, and improvements estimated at nearly one and one-half millions of dollars proposed for this city, the advancement of Orange county coast towns was today being pointed to with pride by local residents who declare that the entire program has been caused by the completion of the state highway along the coast.

Investigations made by the army board show the harbor to be practicable from an engineering standpoint. It is the belief of engineers that it will be of advantage to make the entrance to the harbor the full width of 600 feet and remove all sand and complete this part of the work in a permanent way. A depth of 25 feet is proposed, and this is agreed by all who have studied the problem. This entrance work is estimated to cost $500,000 for repair of breakwater and revetments $100,000, engineering expenses and contingencies, making a total of $635,000.

COLLEGE OFFERS REALTY COURSE

A complete four-year college course leading to a degree in real estate has just been opened by the University of Detroit in its school of commerce and finance. The opening of such a course, according to John A. Russell, dean of the school, practically established a school of real estate within the college of commerce and finance.

The course follows the general plan for collegiate courses in real estate outlined a little over a year ago by a joint commission on real estate education called at the initiative of the National Association of Real Estate boards.

Specialization in real estate begins with the junior year, the first two years being devoted to a general cultural education. In addition to the technical real estate training, students may elect four subjects from a listing including corporation finance, industrial management, municipal government, public finance, credits and collections, panics and depressions, labor movements, domestic trade, transportation, money and credits, statistics, investments, banking, stock exchanges and money markets, commercial organization of raw materials and manufactured products.

Just put it on the rupture and the need of a support or truss or appliance is then done away with. Don't neglect to send for this free trial. Even if your rupture doesn't bother you what is the use of wearing supports all your life? Why run the risk of gangrene and such dangers from a small and innocent little rupture of the kind that has thrown thousands on the operating table? A host of men and women are cured of such risk just because their ruptures do not hurt nor prevent them from getting around. Write at once for this free trial, as it is certainly a wonderful thing and has aided in the cure of ruptures that were as big as a man's two fists. Try and write at once, using the coupon below.

"Of the People
By the People
For the People"

In that expression the Great Emancipator almost exactly described the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association, so far as its operation is concerned. Of the people, by the people and for the people, means MUTUAL co-operation. When you do business with this institution you OWN it to the extent of your holdings. You help control its affairs and you benefit by its service and profitable transactions. In this mutual organization we Save money together Lend it to each other And divide the profits. Could anything be more mutual than that? In all the long years of this concern's existence no customer has ever lost a dollar.

We Want to Help You Accumulate A Surplus—

The government requires all banks and other financial institutions to have at all times a surplus, above the money actually involved in their business transactions. This is wise, because no institution is safe without a surplus to fall back on. If it's wise for a business concern to have a surplus, then it's wise for an individual to have one. YOU are not safe without one. There are so many ways in which a little surplus comes in to advantage. It sets a man up in the world and gives him the ability to grasp a real opportunity when it comes along.

You ought to have such a surplus, and you CAN have just as well as not. Leave a little of your cash here once a month for a while and you'll be amazed how fast it accumulates. We keep adding interest to it from month to month and the first thing you know you've got the "first thousand" that is so notoriously hard to get.

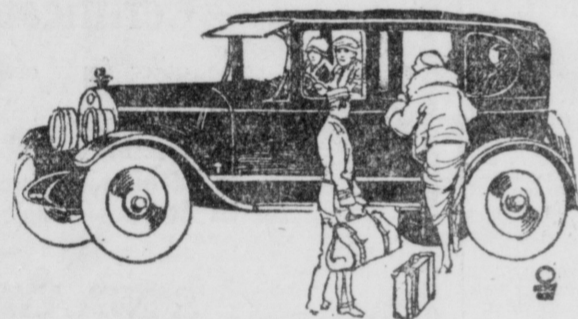

We are anxious to add your name to the long list of successful people who have started out in just this way. Let's start when you get your salary THIS WEEK.

Their New (?) Car

Certainly they are proud of this shining car and pardonable pride, too. But you'd be surprised if they told you what it cost. For it is Not a new car. They painted it themselves with

BASS - HUETER Auto Enamel

A big feature of the job is that the car was not "tied up" for days. The new coat dried in from twenty-four to thirty-six hours.

Bass-Hueter Auto Enamel is made especially for the man who paints his own car. It is easy to apply and one coat of dark will cover the old finish. It may also be had in any other color you could wish for.

Call for a color card and let us explain how easy and economical it is to do the job.

O. K., Says Santa Ana

Thousands are Being Spent By the City in the GREATER West Northwest

If you will go to that close-in residential section north of Fourth street and west of Ross you will see how firmly Santa Ana, itself, believes in the future of that district.

New paved streets; new water, sewer and gas mains. New electric lighting districts. New curbs and sidewalks. All these representing the expenditure of thousands.

So different, you will note, from the usual subdivisions that stretch out and from the center of town.

Here, in a home of your own, you will not wait years, or months or even one day for improvements, trees and shrubs, neighbors. Nor will you wait long for property advances.

Nature has furnished a spot "truly Californian" with orange and walnut trees, full grown, and set it down right here in the midst of Santa Ana. Little wonder that our city is developing this residential park.

Small wonder if YOU cannot see the possibilities in a homesite here!

Bringing with them enthusiastic reports of their trip to Mexico as members of the trade extension excursion organized by the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, W. A. Huff, clothing; E. S. Gilbert, of Gilbert's, and Arthur H. Hays, of Hays' have returned to their homes here, E. H. Cunningham, operator of the Huntington Beach telephone system, who was a member of the party, remained over to negotiate with Mexican officials for the establishment of telephone lines in various cities.

The trip south was made by some 90 southern business men and their wives. They left Los Angeles January 31 and returned yesterday.

According to Huff, the journey was a real revelation. The country through which they traveled is very beautiful and the amount of business being transacted in all lines in Mexico would indicate that the people have confidence in the present government, he said.

At every city along the route, the visitors were entertained with music, trips through big plantations and accorded a delightful time in every way, Huff stated.

"Opportunities for Americans are evident on every hand," said Huff today. "The country through which we traveled is modern, automobiles are numerous and the goods on sale are with few exceptions of American make."

"No evidence of backwardness was apparent and in fact the country seemed to be in excellent condition. Large numbers of Americans are making their homes in the various cities and in every city where we stopped we saw people from the United States."

Mazatlan is becoming quite a resort city and many people are going there, Huff said. Hotel accommodations there are excellent and the community is similar in a great many ways to Santa Ana, he stated.

At San Blas, the members of the excursion were introduced to ex-President Obregon, who is financially interested in a large sugar plant at that place. The visitors were taken on a tour of the factory and as well as the plantation in which it is located.

LINCOLN'S SON IS IN BAD HEALTH

included a cabinet post, four years as minister to England and high places in the business world. His mind is still very alert and since his retirement in 1916, he has remained a member of the board of the Pullman company and Chicago banks.

Was Friend of Gladstone. He reads widely—daily papers, magazines and books, the latter chiefly history, biography and memoirs. He is especially interested in English papers and books which remind him of his days there as a diplomat. He shakes his head over the changes that have come over England since his friend, Gladstone's day.

Lincoln has never written a history of his father and probably never will. His reason is that he collaborated with Nicolai and John Hay, who were Abraham Lincoln's secretaries in the White House and told them all he thought ought to be published.

He ranks Nicolai and Hay above everything written of his father, though he has helped many others and admires some of their work. Before he injured one leg, he was an ardent golf player. Astronomy now monopolizes his spare time, as his hobby.

Particular About Time. This absorbing avocation has made him very particular on the subject of time. For years he has had all the clocks in his home set daily by United States naval observatory time.

Lincoln's last public appearance was at the dedication of the Lincoln memorial in 1922.

DEPUTY COLLECTOR
WILL TOUR COUNTY

Starting next Monday, R. M. Allen, of the local office of the collector of internal revenue, will "tour" the government to the people by instituting a schedule of dates at which he will be at different communities in Orange county to receive income tax returns from residents and at the same time give them advice and assistance in making out their reports.

Directing attention of taxpayers to the fact that returns must be filed by midnight of March 15, Allen today reiterated his declaration that those liable for returns may save themselves time by making their reports at an early date. Those who delay until the last moment probably will have to wait in line and take their turn in receiving the service of the agent, he said.

R. L. Braun will remain in the office at the hall of records here and will be available every day to those who desire advice or who may want to file returns.

Following is the schedule of Allen for different points in the county: Orange, city hall, February 16, 17, 18; Anaheim, city hall, February 23 to 26; Fullerton, city hall, February 27 to March 3; Balboa, city hall, February 19 and 20; Huntington Beach, city hall, February 20 (afternoon) and 21; Huntington Beach, chamber of commerce, February 24 to 26.

Blame Murders and Suicide On Domestic Trouble

CALDWELL, Idaho, Feb. 12.—Famly quarrels and nagging were blamed today by neighbors of Lester Bowman for his fit of rage last night in which he killed two persons, wounded a third and then committed suicide.

Bowman, 33, went home last night and shot and killed his wife and a man named Walter Bell. Mrs. Emma Tracy, a young widow visiting at the Bowman home, was seriously wounded and was taken to a hospital. Bowman then took his own life.

EVENING SALUTATION

Prefer diligence before idleness, unless you esteem rust above brightness.—Plato.

WATCHING HIS OPPONENTS

If there is anyone who had any doubt as to whether Governor Friend W. Richardson intends to run again, let him read what the newspapers who are enthusiastically boosting the Governor and everything he does have to say about the situation. They are watching the men who are looked upon as prospective candidates against Richardson. They are hoping with all their hearts that there will be two or three candidates against him for the Republican nomination.

The reason for the hope is that there is a wish. If the Governor is opposed by but one strong candidate for the nomination, he may fail to get the nomination. If he has two or more he will win it.

Here is what the Riverside Enterprise says hopefully under the heading, "Young and Other Will Run."

C. C. Young, lieutenant governor of California is being groomed to run against Governor Richardson for the Republican nomination in 1926. He is the most outspoken opponent of the governor in the North and has attempted to make capital out of his opposition to the economy program of the governor.

Despite many of the expressed editorial opinions to the contrary however, The Enterprise does not believe that Young will be the only antagonist of Richardson's when the time comes. Will C. Wood has sown too many bushels of political oats around the state on his "educational" trips, to be sidetracked as easily as some think he will be.

Then there is Clyde Seavey, who is the candidate of the radical elements, who supported La Follette in the last national campaign and who aided the water and power act. It is generally known that he was backed by the men who financed the water and power act, with the idea that if a sufficient showing was made, even though there were no votes, the defeat of the strength of the vote might be capitalized behind Seavey, who has been chairman of the state railroad commission and has had an opportunity to swat the corporations frequently and play up to a popular prejudice against public utilities owned by private corporations.

There are plenty of anti-administration leaders who would like to become governor. Not all of them can be easily sidetracked and it is The Enterprise's guess that two or three of them will get onto the primary ballot next year in the race for the Republican nomination and that in such a contingency Governor Richardson will be assured of the nomination.

It is generally believed that Rex Goodcell would prefer to run for United States senator, rather than for governor, with the idea of capitalizing his Southern California residence against a northern senatorial candidate, instead of entering the arena for the governorship against a man who has as much strength as Governor Richardson, who once claimed San Bernardino for his home and occupies most of his time that is spent away from the capital, in Southern California at Long Beach, which has been his summer home for the past 16 years or more.

AGRICULTURAL PRICES

The President's Agricultural Commission advises American farmers to curtail their production in order to eliminate the exportable surplus which inevitably fixes the domestic prices of their products. It is advice more easily given than followed.

Reduced wheat acreage does not necessarily bring about a lessened wheat crop. A large acreage in a bad year might yield a disappointingly poor and small crop, while a small acreage in a good year would produce an over-large crop. Human nature, as well as weather, complicates the problem. The prospect of high prices naturally makes every farmer want to raise and sell more bushels of wheat so that he can make that much more money. Even though convinced that smaller yields bring about higher prices, the individual farmer would rather have his neighbors decrease their acreage than do so himself.

The Agricultural Commission hasn't suggested that the exportable surplus be dropped into the nearest river or used for fuel, but farmers themselves have known the tragedy of similar disposal of unmarketable crops.

It is a knotty problem which calls for more facing of facts and constructive thinking on the part of farmers themselves as well as investigating commissions and congressmen. A large and hungry world, marketing methods, transportation facilities and a lot of other factors are really as important as artificial price aids, protective tariff or efforts to control the size of crops.

DECOROUS PROSPERITY

Business conditions continue to improve steadily, though slowly. This is the word that comes to California from points East.

This is normally a dull time of the year in many lines. Yet there is a persistent increase of industrial output, with a strengthening of prices, and carloadings are at a high level. Evidently goods are being made, moved and sold in greater volume than for many months. The improvement is not uniform, yet it spreads pretty well through the industries and through the country.

Agriculture, naturally, is more cheerful than it has been for years.

A banker speaks of the improvement as "decorous." It is an odd but felicitous term. "Decorous" means "fitting" or "appropriate." That is what the country needs and wants. Experience in these latter hectic years shows that decorous prosperity, which knows what it is doing and stays within reasonable bounds, is far better than a rough-house boom.

HONOR FOR BOBWHITE

Kansas is to have a state bird when the school children of that commonwealth have finished their bird election. Emporia has gone for the bobwhite, with the meadow lark a very close second. Other runners-up were the prairie chicken and the cardinal. The robin, phoebe, bluebird, wren, sparrow, dove, woodpecker and stork received a small number of merely complimentary votes.

The bobwhite or North American quail should make a very acceptable state bird. Voting for it is a lot better than shooting at it, by any rate—a fact recognized in the states now classifying it not as a game bird but a song bird.

The idea of having a state bird is a happy one that would probably appeal to the school children in any state. Youngsters today know a good deal about birds. They can identify them by sight or by hearing the songs. They take keen pleasure in observing bird habits, watching them build their nests, feeding them in back yards and studying them generally. The small boy today has a surprising amount of bird lore, most of it acquired without doing a single bird any harm. Pocket bird guides, binoculars, and kodaks are far more in evidence than the sling shots of former, crueler days. We wonder what bird would prove the favorite were the choice submitted to a vote of the school children of Orange county.

"MACBETH" IN SANTA ANA

Tomorrow night, for the first time in a number of years, residents of Orange county are to have the opportunity in Santa Ana of witnessing the production of a Shakespearean play by a professional company. The opportunity is one that ought not be passed by by anyone at all interested in literature or dramatics.

The play to be produced is "Macbeth," the play having been selected as the result of a vote among students of the city. Probably had the same question been submitted to grown-ups the decision would have been the same.

The production ought to be patronized for itself alone; it ought also to be patronized as an appreciation of the enterprise of the Santa Ana Teachers League in bringing the production here.

If, as news reports say, the Welsh mountain of Troedrhwyfwrch is moving, we'll bet it staggers under its name.

More Than Our Share

San Bernardino Sun.

Whatever may be the growth of the automobile business in the future California is likely to continue to get more than her share of the machines and the resultant prosperity from their use. The total number of autos, as estimated by the department of commerce, is 18,600,000. Their value is placed at $3,360,000,000. California licenses last year totaled 1,126,000 and the only state having more was New York, with 1,136,000. Undoubtedly California will much exceed New York the current year and head the list of states. The state motor vehicle department forecasts a total of 1,500,000 registrations. Assuming that the total reached 20,000,000, this would mean that one machine in every 13 in the United States was registered in and operated in California, to say nothing of the many thousands of machines listed in other states operating in California a portion of the time.

This is a record unique in the world. There is nothing like it anywhere. That it has much to do with prosperity and business soundness is undeniable. Much as the climate of the coast has had to do with the matter of tourist travel, and home state travel as well, it can not claim credit for this wonderful state of affairs alone.

The Silent Partner

The Liberator.

This story is about the business man who stays at home and does double work in order that his partner may be free to give himself in service to the public. The one who goes gets all the glory, the one who stays gets little or none of it. He never sees his name in print. His ears never taste the sweet music of applause. The spotlight does not follow his movements. But had he not stayed at home and done double work the other could not have gone to carry noble ideas into places of influence.

In a California city which bears a Spanish name is a firm of prosperous printers. One was called to serve in the legislature; the other shouldered double work and let him go. This happened through four sessions of the legislature. The name of the one who went is a household word in California. The name of the other is seen on the sign of the firm. But California would never have had F. M. Wright for the self-sacrificing spirit of F. M. Eley. Wright-Eley Co. is a firm of printers. It is a firm of patriots equal in honor.

So here to the silent partner. The commonwealth is rich in him. All honor to him.

Goodcell For What?

Riverside Press.

Judge Rex Goodcell, internal revenue collector, is being "favorably mentioned" for several positions just now. These include governor and United States senator and a boom is announced for his appointment as revenue commissioner. Senator Shortridge might be glad to shunt Goodcell into a federal position at Washington and thus remove him as competitor for the nomination for senator. Shortridge's success has to be selected at the 1926 election and there is a strong feeling in favor of a Southern California man. Both senators are from the north—Johnson from San Francisco and Shortridge from Menlo Park with law offices in San Francisco.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

LOSS OF TONE

After giving an X-ray meal to diagnose stomach or intestinal trouble, the length of time that the food remains in the stomach is carefully noted. Under ordinary circumstances all of the meal will be out of the stomach and into the intestine in three or four hours. Some cases will take about six hours, and yet be considered normal. If more than six hours is required then something is wrong. This doesn't necessarily mean a cancer, or an ulcer, but very frequently that the stomach simply hasn't the muscular strength to throw the food into the intestine. That is what is called atonic dyspepsia, simply meaning that the stomach walls are without the proper tone.

As you know, the action of muscle anywhere in the body is like elastic. It becomes stretched and then recoils. If the muscular walls of the stomach get stretched too much, then the elasticity is lost, and that means that the strength of the muscles which churn up the food, so that it will mix with the stomach juice, is reduced to such an extent, that the stomach is prevented from emptying itself within the time limits mentioned above. Some folks are born with this weak tone to the stomach muscles, others overload the stomach and make it lose its normal tone or strength, while others have a sort of nervous condition at times which seems to actually paralyze, or render powerless, the stomach muscles, and they have usually a severe type of headache with it.

This is a condition in which your doctor will not likely use much in the way of drugs. He may wash out the stomach or teach you how to do it, will advise regulating the bowels by a very mild medicine, or by the use of massage.

Further, as mentioned before, lying on the right side for ten minutes, four hours after each meal, will permit the food in the stomach to syphon into the intestine. Light meals well spread out over the day, is the usual rule.

Lincoln at Gettysburg

FOURSCORE and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war.

We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that the nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow this ground.

The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here.

It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced.

It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from those honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from this earth.

THE Catbird's head is sooty black

Lincoln's Example

There is a lesson that we all may well take to heart in the life of Abraham Lincoln.

Summed up in a few words, it can be expressed thus: Whether you reach the top or not depends pretty much upon yourself!

Lincoln was born of poor parents. Friends, social life, even ordinary opportunities were denied him. He knew only hard work under the worst conditions.

But it only spurred him on. He looked ahead—and dreamed. There were no libraries for him to turn to. The benefits of our present day schooling were not his. So he borrowed what books he could, and read and worked—and dreamed on!

Lincoln gave himself an education. As he read, in front of an open fireplace, his dreams grew bigger—but never were they dreams of personal power.

Time let him gradually find his place in the scheme of things. Dreams began to come true. But only after he had studied them out and worked them out for himself.

Lincoln, of course, did not know what his goal was going to be. He did not think of going "from prairie cabin to capitol." He only dreamed of bigger and better things—and then did them. The whole world benefited by the reward that came to him.

There is room, in this world, for more dreamers—who are big enough to MAKE their dreams come true!

LINCOLN—THE MAN

by Hal Cochran

AT TIMES, like a child in tenderness;

With sympathy ever at call.

A heart and soul alert to express

And willing to give its all.

The makeup that leaps at homely things,

Though born in a stature rough.

The brand of a man that always brings

Respect for that kind of stuff.

AT TIMES, a mass of the sterner strain,

From his own self torn apart.

And never a thought of personal gain.

But a country's plight at heart.

A human who reaches the very top,

Yet holds to the common clan.

The soul that lives on, to never stop.

Abraham Lincoln—THE MAN!

THE CHICAGO METHOD

The policeman, hearing the shot, burst into the fashionable apartment. Cringing before him on the floor was the crumpled figure of a woman, weeping hysterically, pistol clutched in her trembling fingers.

"My husband! Oh, my husband!" she moaned. "Control yourself," urged the officer. "Where is the corpse?" "Gone," sobbed the woman. "He went out through the window. I—I missed him."—Chicago Tribune.

Fickle

Hal Cochran's
DAILY POEM

THERE'S one little lady whom all menfolks know. She's fickle as a fickle can be. She'll halt for a moment and then's on the go. She's captured, then suddenly free.

She must get a kick out of playing her game. It's certain that she understands how men let their love quickly burst into flame, and then let her slip through their hands.

We work hard to get her I'll say, then she switches to you and never an eye will she show. Do, say you don't know her. 'Twould be out of place, and prove you're a very poor scholar. Just stop now and think when I say that her face is printed on each silver dollar.

You see, you're acquainted—she's often been yours, but then is the same story told. The fact that she comes and then leaves us assures that she's only to have—not to hold.

Laughter and Tears

Fresno Republican

LAUGHTER AND TEARS

From an old issue of the Republican, many years ago, we take some verses credited at the time to the Baltimore Sun. Who was the author is doubtless long forgotten. The lines appear elsewhere on this page, entitled "Laughter."

It is said often that we have too little laughter. Perhaps also we have too few tears.

How much a people laugh, or weep, depends much upon their mental and physical habits. We are more reticent, than other peoples. Yet there are peoples who, in comparison with us appear stolid or stodgy, because they say little and never laugh or weep. Perhaps they think as much as we, perhaps not—that is something for the psychologists to count up. The fact is that only those who laugh and weep alike, can know each other. No other barrier is so fearful as reticence. No such dissipation is so fatal as the lack of it.

But among those of us who know each other, a little extension of the bounds of expression, on occasion, always makes for richness and strength. Just as repression in between times saves up soul energy. We should laugh by finding occasions for laughter. We should weep because our souls have not avoided the sorrows that are ours to share.

It is said often that we have too little laughter. Perhaps also we have too few tears.
